Where's Woody?

Woody and his friends got lost on their mission to find Bonnie a new birthday present! On their way back home, they bumped into some of Buzz's friends from Star Command and got a little turned around in all the excitement. We need your help to round up Woody and his friends and get them back home before Bonnie notices they are missing! And since it's her birthday, let's surprise her with some new toys! Down below you will find some information you'll need to find everyone. (Please do not remove the character cutouts—just mark them off on your sheet!)
