

Chomp & Stomp Safari

Oh no! My dinosaurs have escaped, and now they're scattered all over the Dogwood Trail! From the teeny-tiny baby dinos to the big, stompies, they've all gone on their own little adventures. I need some brave explorers to help me track them down before they wander off too far. Some might be playing hide-and-seek, others might be munching on leaves, and a few might just be napping in the sunshine. So grab your explorer hats, bring your best dino roar, and join me on a prehistoric rescue mission along the trail! Let's find them all before they decide to start a dinosaur parade without us!
